Frequently Asked Questions

Do insurers conduct a credit check on me?

Yes, they do. Insurers are required to do a credit check on all insureds as part of the legislated “Know your customer” (KYC) requirement.

Who pays the broker / intermediary?

The Insurer / underwriter pays the broker by way of a commission. Where a broker fee has been agreed upon, this is paid by the Insured to the broker.

Do I need a broker?

Insurance contracts are legally binding documents that can be complex and the assistance of a qualified broker has always been found to be very helpful.
